BALLOTING IN THIS county during the recent Primary Election apparently was efficiently handled.

At least there were no major foul-ups of the kind that occurred in some other areas of the state.

In Fresno, for example, because of a breakdown of the machines, the counting was not completed until a week after the election had taken place.

In close elections a situation like that could send the candidates climbing the walls.

It is bad enough to wait through one night for the count.

But a week?

The punch system in voting that is now used has a number of advantages but there was some griping over the fact that the voter had to punch his ballot in a particular party booth which was clearly designated.

Obviously such segregation by booths is necessary because of the manner in which the partisan ballots are prepared.

Yet we heard a number of people complain because they had to publicly announce what their party designation was and then to make it worse head for the proper stall.

Some folks apparently felt that their party designation should be their own private affair (which it is) and were somewhat disturbed because it had to be so blatantly displayed.

Of course this segregation won't take place in the general election in November.

Everyone gets the same ballot then.

If the voting machines don't get tempermental again on Nov. 10, the counting should be less complicated for the general than it was in June.

At least there won't be as many candidates. There were quite a few drop-outs on June 2.

RECENTLY WE VISITED Lockheed in Sunnyvale, along with a couple of other newspaper people, as guests of the community relations department of Lockheed.

The feature of the visit was a three-hour briefing session in which various management personnel described the different phases of Lockheed's mammoth operation.

The briefing was interesting, educational and informative.

We were utterly amazed at the magnitude of the firm and impressed by the various phases of operation of the company of which we had very little previous knowledge.

The importance of Lockheed to the economic base of this county has been pretty well established in everyone's mind. After all, the present payroll in the Bay Area is about 21,000.

And how Lockheed goes very definitely is important to Santa Clara County. It has an economic impact on the area that is quite evident.

A BREAKDOWN OF THE employees per community in the county reveals that there are 577 on the Lockheed payroll who live in Campbell, which makes a pretty good-sized local impact on its own.

Conversely, of course, layoffs by Lockheed have an adverse effect on the economic situation of the county and its cities.

And there has been a steady reduction in personnel from the peak in 1968 to the present time. It works out at about 25%, Lockheed officials report, or about 5300 people.

We were especially interested in the company's attempts to diversify its operations. The firm appears to be making

A LOT OF DAM CHANGES--Construction is now under way by the County Flood Control and Water District of the new Lower Page Dam on Los Gatos Creek at San Tomas Expressway. The remodeling is part of the district's program to improve flood control on the waterway. The City of Campbell plans to floodlight the dam after it is completed.

The project involved the destruction of the old dam, long a landmark in the area, replacement of Upper Page Dam and deepening of the creek channel.

The project ties in with the eventual development of the creek area for recreational purposes from Campbell Ave. to Vasona Park, as a joint venture of all the agencies, the flood control district, county and Los Gatos.

In a somewhat related action, the State last week received bids for the widening of Highway 17 south from the Camden interchange to 280 from four to six lanes. In addition, the Camden interchange will be revised to eliminate left-turn movements from traffic northbound from San Tomas Expressway which terminates at the interchange.

Low bidder for the project was Lew Jones Construction Co. and Leo F. Piazza Paving Co. with a bid of $2,935,886.70.

In single-family area

Planners deny duplex plans

Campbell's fast-diminishing single-family residential areas should be retained and the general plan of the city adhered to, as it applies to density factors, a majority of the Planning Commission indicated Monday night in turning down a proposed duplex development.

As Commissioner Jack Healey explained, this could mean that it may be necessary to "sit on" the areas, leaving them undeveloped, rather than allow multiples to come in.

But he felt that was the step to take in light of the fact that single-family construction in the city has practically stopped here in the last two years. He noted that last year only two single-family homes were built and there has not been any single-family permits taken out to date this year.

A proposed duplex development, at Virginia and Sunny Oaks, of 36 units, valued at approximately $750,000, was rejected by a 4-1 vote, much to the satisfaction of the majority of the audience.

By its action, the Commission (two commissioners, Thayer Lyons and Ed Pack were absent) denied the zone change request by Kunkel-Thomas Co. for a 4.6 acre parcel at Sunny Oaks and Virginia

Next Monday

Third screen act comes to City Council again

That "Case of the Third Screen", which previously had a long-run locally returns for another engagement next Monday night, June 22, when the issue involving the expansion of the Winchester Drive-In Theater again comes before the City Council.

There has been a 60-day moratorium on the issue.

Syufy Enterprises desires to utilize a six-acre parcel adjacent to the present two-screen Winchester Drive-In Theater for expansion of its operation through the installation of a third screen.

The six-acre plot, however, is presently zoned R-3 (multiples) which prohibits a drive-in. The theater people have requested a zone change and approval of a 224-unit apartment complex on the property. Involved is the question of access to Union over a 30-foot right-of-way controlled by Fred Sahadi, co-owner of a mobile home park adjacent to the theater.

Apparently the same cast headed by Michael DiLeonardo, attorney, will appear in the "revival" staring next Monday.

Other matters on the agenda for next Monday include a request from the Youth Advisory Commission that the City Council institute action to get the 18-year-old vote issue on the November ballot.

The Council is also expected to consider the proposed new tow-away ordinance that will establish some limited ocntrols on firms that are in the business of carting away vehicles from shopping centers.

The Council on Monday is also expected to act on the recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Commission on the appointment of a commissioner for that body. The vacancy was created when Bill Podgorsek was elected to the City Council.

The P & R Commission interviewed six candidates last week but made no decision. The Commission has scheduled another special meeting this Thursday (June 18) for the same purpose.

Taxable retail sales in Campbell for 1969 top 1968 by wide margin

During 1969, the taxable retail sales in Campbell reached a new high record when $58,007,000 was chalked up for the 12-month period, according to the State Board of Equalization.

But experts have their fingers crossed for 1970 as they await the official report for the first quarter.

The State Board collects sales tax based on the reported sales. The City of Campbell receives approximately 1% of the 5% in sales tax that is collected.

The total sales in Campbell for 1969 showed a healthy increase of $6,485,000 over the previous year when the taxable retail sales reported came to $51,522,000.

Los Gatos also showed a big increase in taxable retail sales for 1969 over 1968. In 1968 the Los Gatos total was $52,985,000, compared to $61,095,000 in 1969, a gain of $8,110,000.

Almost $4 million of the gain for Los Gatos was from automobile dealers. In 1968 auto row in that city accounted for $27,052,000 of the total sales. In 1969 the figure had jumped to $30,974,000, more than 50% of all taxable retail sales reported for the year for Los Gatos.

Topping the sources of sales in Campbell, as has been the case for several years, is the building material category. In 1969 this category accounted for $12,034,000 of the total, compared to $11,277,000 in 1968, a gain of $757,000.

In second place in the sales picture, locally, is "home furnishings" with $10,318,000 in sales, a slight drop ($24,000) from the previous year when the sales reached $10,342,000.

Taxable retail sales reported by 19 food stores in Campbell in 1969 reported $1,619,000 in taxable sales, compared to eight such establishments and $1,452,000 in 1968.

In 1969, the 52 eating places accounted for $4,439,000 in taxable sales while 50 such establishments in 1968 showed $4,182,000.

Taxable retail sales for the 10 drug stores in Campbell came to $1,231,000 in 1969, compared to $1,177,000 in 1968.

There was a decline in taxable sales reported by the service stations in Campbell during 1969, although there were two more stations reporting (45 to 47).

In 1969, the service stations reported $1,080,000 in taxable sales compared to $1,-

Ministers at Campbell Methodist church receive reappointments

The Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell since January, 1961 and the Rev. Alan R. Goozee, associate pastor here since 1962, were reappointed to their respective positions on Sunday at the close of the five-day annual conference at the University of Pacific in Stockton.

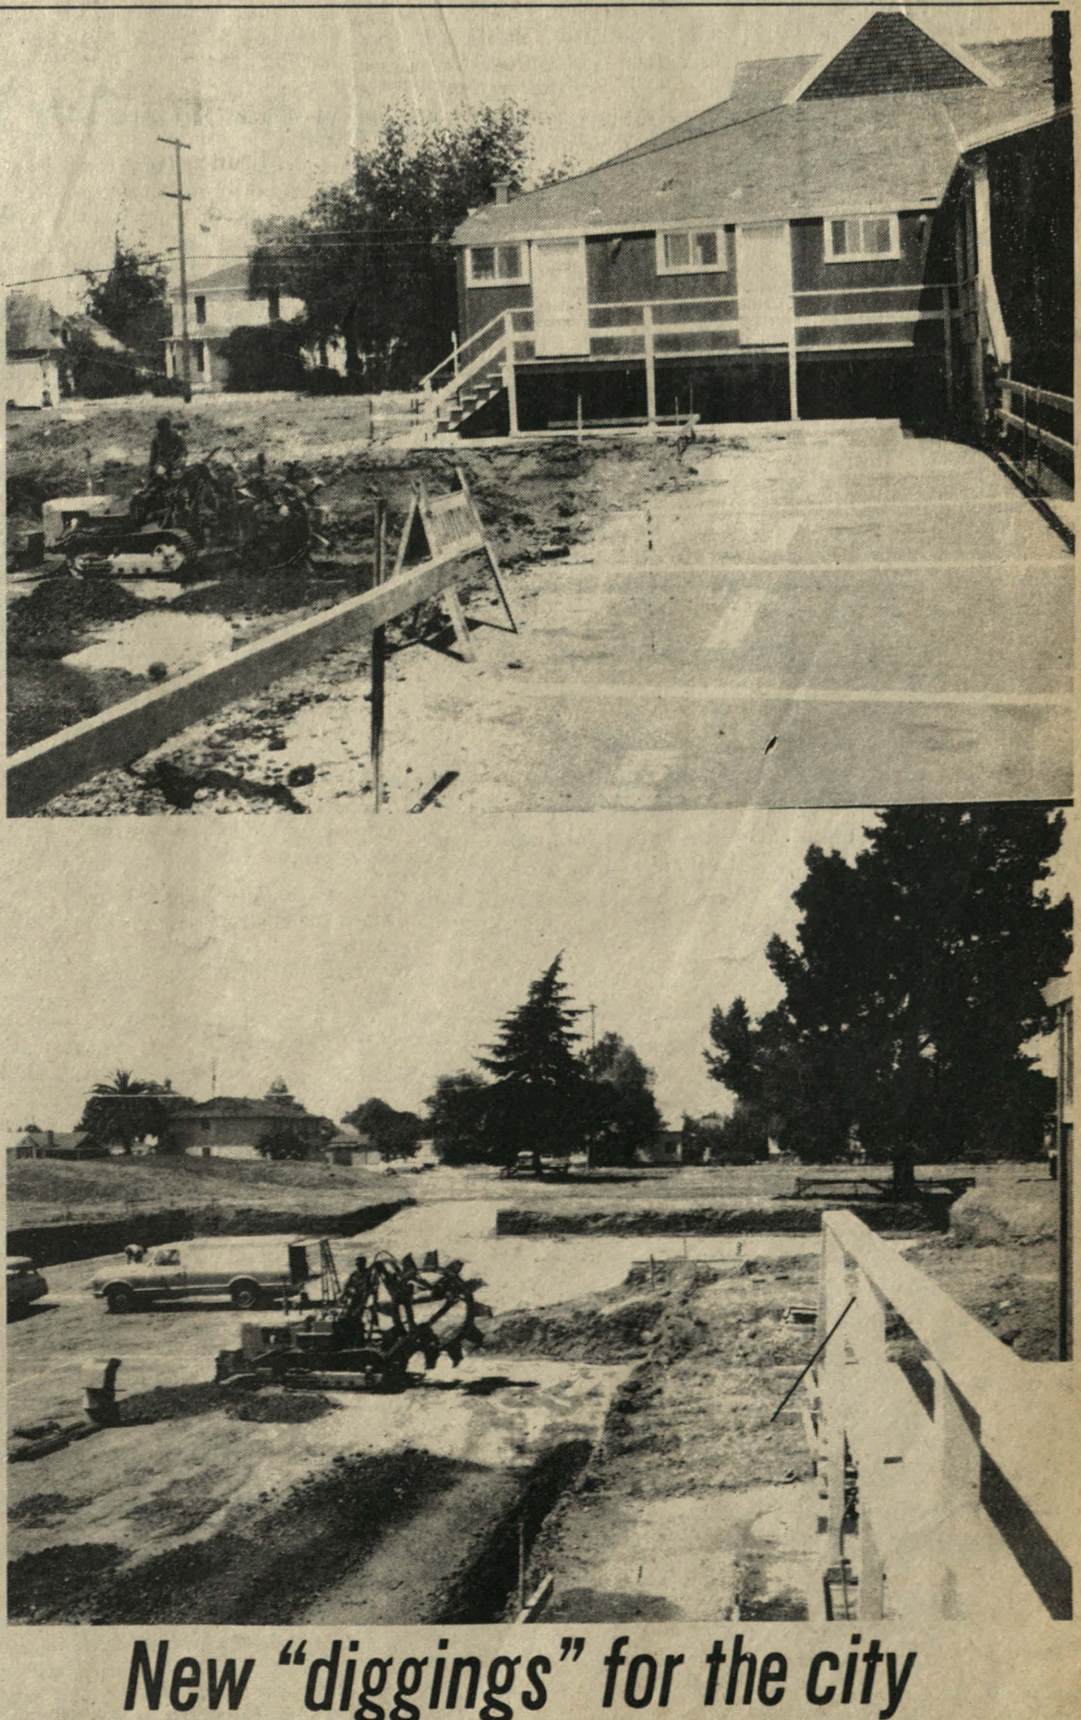
The assignments are for a year and the appointments to the 390 churches in the California-Nevada conference were made by Bishop Charles F. Golden of San Francisco.

More than 80 ministers were sent to new pulpits.

Among the new assignments was that of the Rev. Herbert W. Neale, former pastor in Campbell, who was reassigned from Fresno to Carmel.

Another change was the assignment of the Rev. Herbert B. Daulton from Santa Rosa to the San Jose First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Jackson L. Butler, pastor at San Jose, was assigned to Walnut Creek.

All the appointments are effective July 1.



New "diggings" for the city

CITY HALL CONSTRUCTION---Part of the parking lot at the present city hall had to be eliminated when excavation started for Campbell's new city hall, as the above photos illustrate.

The new city hall will have two levels and, in addition, will have a full basement.

Editorial

Citizen participation

Drafting of Campbell's entry in the All America Cities Award Program is now in the final stages.

The All America City Award is a coveted honor that is sought by many cities. But only 22 are selected annually by the joint sponsors of the program, the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

The first step, after the entry is filed, is for a screening committee in New York to pick the finalists that will be invited to send representatives before the All-America Cities jury at the National Conference in Portland, Oregon in August to present the finalists' cases. The jury then selects the 22 winners.

The Campbell entry is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with a committee headed by Norm Paul, first vice president of the CofC, doing the spadework.

Basically a city is judged on how the citizens participated in civic activities rather than on how the city's administration functioned.

The honor, incidentally, is tabbed "citizen participation award" which, in itself, gives the insight to the program.

Civic leaders have felt that Campbell citizens by their involvement in civic affairs of their city in recent years have displayed a community spirit that is deserving of wide-spread recognition.

And the All-America City program provides this recognition.

Citizens of this community through their efforts in civic bond campaigns, certainly have earned some points. The bond issues that were passed in face of the so-called poor bond climate. Success was due almost solely because of citizen participation on a door-to-door or grass roots basis.

There is other evidence that has indicated active citizen participation.

The efforts, for example, of Campbell Citizens for Beautification to improve the looks of the Community through planned landscaping and clean-up programs clearly was a part of this participation.

And Campbell citizens are spearheading the efforts to develop the Los Gatos Creek area into a usable recreational area.

In addition, in Campbell there are active groups involved in civic activities representing the youth of the community as well as seniors.

The Youth Advisory Commission, composed of teenagers from the high schools, is an official body of the City of Campbell. The West Valley Senior Action Committee is also playing an important role in affairs of the community.

The CofC has also been instrumental in the promoting of a better relationship with the educational segment of the community.

So, all in all, it appears to us that the City of Campbell is eligible for an All-America City Award that is based on citizen participation, for in Campbell the citizens have and are participating.

Most observers of the local scene are convinced that without an active and dedicated group of citizens representing all segments of the community, neither one of the civic improvement bond issues could have been passed.

You may recall that the decision by the City Council to call the $3.6 million bond issue in October 1967 was based almost entirely on the recommendation of a citizens advisory group representing all geographic areas of the city.

This group of citizens was formed in April and spent several months in studying all phases of a capital improvment program. Then, after its recommendation was approved by the Council, the same group of citizens volunteered to form the nucleus of a grass-roots body that literally took the message to the people.

You may also recall that, although all six of the bond proposals that were on the ballot in October, 1967, received a majority of the votes, only four of them received the necessary two-thirds majority.

One of those that failed in October, 1967 was the park bond issue.

But in 1969, when a developer prepared to construct an apartment complex on land adjacent to the city park, which would mean that a choice parcel of the limited open space area would be lost forever, the citizens participated again.

Again it was solely through this citizen participation that the bond issue, strictly for park development, was passed by the electorate, this time by a whopping 74% vote.

By the same token, the Campbell Citizens for Beautification have involved citizens through the annual home beautification awards as well as constantly attempting to improve the business community.

We sincerely believe that the citizens of this community deserve recognition for their continuing efforts.

great strides in that direction.

ONE OF THE HIGHlights of the briefing, incidentally, was a film on "The Twister", a new concept in traversing the roughest types of terrain.

Designed primarily for military use, "The Twister" distinctly has possibilities for civilian use, especially hunters and fishermen.

We don't attempt to launch into any technical discussion on the various phases of Lockheed's operation.

We couldn't, if we wanted to.

We were way out of our depth even when we were listening and looking.

But is was educational.

IN A SPACE OF THREE days recently we attended three different events that characterized, one could say, the span of life.

On a Thursday, we were at a party for our godson and nephew, Paul Vierhus, who was celebrating his fourth birthday.

On Friday, at services in Newport Beach, we paid our last respects to a long-time newspaperman friend of ours, Ralph Turner, who passed away shortly after he reached his 75th birthday.

And on Saturday, our nephew, a Navy flyer, was married and we attended the wedding also in the southland.

Couldn't help thinking that the three events clearly brought into focus the whole gamut of what everything is all about after the underbrush is all cut away.

It gave us something to think about anyway.

BECAUSE OF THE FAILure of the voters throughout the state to approve tax or bond interest increases for school districts many of the systems are facing financial hurdles that appear to be in some cases almost insurmountable.

Budgets are being slashed to the bone.

And then cut some more.

To a degree this budget-slashing could be a blessing in disguise.

Undoubtedly there are many fine programs that must be eliminated or curtailed. That is unfortunate.

But it also is possible that some fat will be cut off. In those cases the districts will not suffer to any great extent.

We have heard of a number of different approaches that have been suggested as means to combat the ticklish fiscal situation.

A board member in a neighboring district, for example, had the courage to suggest that the administrators and teachers voluntarily take a 10% cut in pay.

You can imagine how that went over with the teachers.

But that made more sense to us than the suggestion that was made by a Campbell teacher which would give the teachers and other district employees good-sized raises in pay.

Then just close the schools when the district runs out of money.

And the party was serious.

TO IMPROVE A SO-called traffic bottleneck that has existed on Winchester Blvd. at the city limits just north of Hamilton, the city plans to widen and improve the roadway at that location.

Bill Wren, public works director, received approval of the Council recently for the approximately $5000 project which extends in front of a liquor store.

In voting for approval, Councilman Ralph Doetsch submitted that he thought it was right to eliminate a bottleneck in front of a bottle shop.

There were a couple of weak chuckles on that one.

Ordinarily Ralph does better than that.

NOW THAT SCHOOL IS out for the summer youngsters will be pedalling their bikes up and down the roadways at all hours of the day. During the school term bike riders are quite sparse during the middle of the day.

So it behooves all of us, including those on bikes to be cautious.

Under the law a bicyclist is a driver and not a rider in traffic parlance.

But an awful lot of bicyclists don't follow driving regulations. One that comes to mind right now, for example, is "driving" on the right side of the road.

The number of bike drivers is small compared to the number of licensed automobile drivers, so the bicyclist is exposed to greater danger. (Each year, we understand 700 bicyclists are killed and 34,000 injured.)

We also noted recently that motorcycle registration in California has risen 128% in the past five years. On the optimistic side, however, the number of motorcyclists involved in fatal and injury accidents rose only 48% in the same period.

But despite the declining accident rate, the Highway Patrol reports that the motorcyclists continue to have a higher frequency of accidents than other vehicles.

There is a lesson here someplace.

Voting for the rejection were Norm Paul, Frank Klein, Dale Scott and Jack Healey. Chairman Merrill Grim cast the lone vote in favor of the zone change.

The area is now zoned R-1 (single family) and the developers had requested a zone change to P-D (planned development) so that a complex of 18 buildings (duplexes) be constructed which would have a density of 10.6 living units per acre as compared to a single-family development of 5-per acre.

Eldred Kunkel, of the building firm, said that the duplexes would cost about $40,000 each.

OPPOSITION

Representatives from neighborhood areas adjacent to the proposed development were on hand to protest any change from the present R-1 zoning that now exists.

One of the spokesmen, Ed Kennedy, of 905 Marilyn Dr., maintained that Campbell should "try for the best and not the second best" in developments. He added also that the density factor as indicated in the general plan would be out of balance if the duplexes were approved.

Mrs. Harold R. Warner, of 859 Sunny Oaks, asserted that there were too many apartments and duplexes in Campbell at the present time.

Robert E. Brundin, of 1120 Fairland, had submitted a letter opposing the rezoning and he also spoke at the meeting. Brundin emphasized that the general plan outlined the low density areas and that the plan should be followed.

Opposition to the duplexes was also voiced by William Johnson, of 840 Connie Dr.

In rejecting the zone change, the Commission followed the recommendation of Art Kee, planning director. In his report, Kee explained that "Specific Area Plan III", as adopted by the City, indicated that the area in question should be in the low density range of 4 to 7-living units per acre.

He also explained that zoning to the west across Virginia was R-D. It was R-1, to the south and north across Sunny Oaks. The area to the west, largely undeveloped, is also zoned R-1.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions on Monday night, the Commission approved a "face-lift" remodeling operation, estimated to cost $120,000, for the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center (at Bascom and Hamilton) and for a $35,000 Goodyear tire center in the southern portion of the center. The application was filed by Hagstrom Properties, owners of the property.

Approved also were the pls plans of Ray Kanawyer for a 63-unit apartment complex at 220 Hollis Ave. and plans for a modificato modification of the roof line for the commercial center being constructed by Fred Chez at 1871 and 1961 Pollard Rd.

CIVIC CENTER

The Commission also approved the proposed new civic center zoning district, which will extend from First St. on the west to Harrison on the east.

The Commission also recommended that the new zoning district should include properties east of Harrison to the railroad tracks extending north to three lots north of Grant.

Most of that area is now zoned for industrial uses and thus will be non-conforming, if the zoning is finally adopted by the Council.

The civic center district on the north includes those lots facing Grant and on the south to Campbell Ave. The areas adjacent to the new zone revert to the same zoning status that was in effect when interim zoning was placed on the area extending from Second to Harrison (railroad tracks) and north to Latimer.

The Commission also approved the application of Church of God of Prophecy for a parcel map for property on the east side of Virginia Ave.

The request to convert a residence at 480 N. Harrison into an office was withdrawn by the applicant, Lawrence Pereira.

Action on the application of R. C. Montgomery for an industrial building at 480 McGlincey was continued as was the application of Sutter Hill Development Co. for a modification of its plans for the center at 580 W. Hamilton.

The hearing on the request of Home Federal Savings and Loan for an industrial building at 126 Dillon was also continued.

CITY GETS SHARE

Campbell received $16,102.47 as its April apportionment of the highway users tax and $15,336.66 for May and $11,787.35 in April and $7,476.43 in May from the cigarette tax.

There were 10 apparel stores reporting $609,000 in sales in 1969 compared to nine in 1968 with $599,000 in sales.

Although the fourth quarter in 1969 showed the highest total in sales ($15,351,000), the greatest increase over the previous year was reported in the first quarter of 1969 with more than $2 million in gain over the same quarter of 1968 (13,038,000 to $10,939,000).

How 1970 is to fit into the sales picture should be indicated this month when the State Board of Equalization is expected to release the figures for the first quarter of 1970 which ended on March 31.

Campbell JayCees hold annual luau

Traditional Hawaiian roast pig was on the menu for the Campbell JayCees annual installation-luau held at the residence of Allan and Beverlee Blaine in Los Gatos.

The authentic Hawaiian menu was planned and carried out under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hughes, and included the delectable whole pig, roasted in a dirt pit in the back yard, two-finer poi, chicken and long rice, lomi salmon, haupia or rice pudding and salads.

A distinguished guest at the installation dinner was Hiroshi Maeda of Japan, World President of Junior Chamber International.

Serving as installing officer was Arnie Laub, past president of the California JayCees, who installed Allan Blaine as president for the coming year.

Other officers who will serve during the year include Joe Brundage, vice president; Dave Valkenaar, state director; Bob Jacobson, external director; Ben Woo, internal director; Hank Vanderhulst, secretary and Rich Kaylor, treasurer.

The fifth annual luau was attended by 150 people, and marks the third time the event has been held at the Blaine residence.

WALL TO WALL PEOPLE--- The steaming pig, center, was the center of attention at the Campbell JayCee installation luau. A total of 150 members and guests attended the luau held at the Allan Blaine residence in Los Gatos.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Did you know there was once a baseball pitcher who received over 100-thousand dollars and then was able to win only ONE game durhis entire career! . . . Lefthander Paul Pettit was given over 100-thousand dollars to sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1951 . . . He came right to the majors that year and didn't win any games . . . He didn't win any in 1952 either . . . In 1953 he won one game, and that was his last season as a player in the big leagues. . . Thus Pettit's one win cost the Pirates over 100-thousand dollars!

Oddly enough, when it comes to stealing bases, speed is the LEAST important of the three main factors, according to a veteran baseball man...This man was quoted recently as saying that the first and most important factor is knowing a pitcher's moves and getting a good jump on him...The second most important factor is a good slide, away from the tag...Then, speed would be only the third-most important thing.

Station owner posts bail on charge

Campbell police report that bail of more than $1,000 has been posted by Alfred Salciccia, owner of Al's Enco Station, 471 E. Campbell Ave. following his booking by the Santa Clara County Sheriff's department Tuesday morning on charges of allegedly possessing dangerous drugs with intent to sell and possession of dangerous explosives.

A warrant for his arrest was issued by Campbell police last week, and Salciccia turned himself in early Tuesday morning.

The warrant was issued when the police reportedly found a cache of drugs and explosives at the Enco station, following a search of the premises.

Police report that Salciccia was implicated after an explosion at the Campbell High School last week. Salciccia was named, according to the police, as the source of the explosives.

According to Campbell fire and police officers, Federal authorities had advised local officials that explosives were being shipped into the area. The station had been under surveillance for three months. The drugs were uncovered during the search for explosives.

It was reported that the searchers found 18 cases of M80 firecrackers; 3,700 red capsules later identified as scobarbital; 623 tablets identified as amphetamines; one kilo of marijuana; a tear gas pen; two tear gas cartridges; and assorted miscellaneous jewelry.

Armed robbers hit two stores

Two armed robberies in two days resulted in cash losses for two Campbell area stores. Campbell police report the 7-11 Store at 2232 S. Bascom was held up on June 14 by an early morning robber who pulled a revolver and demanded money.

After emptying the tills of $342 in cash, the robber fled on foot.

The Mayfair Market at 1570 W. Campbell Ave. was robbed at 5:15 a.m. Monday morning, June 15 by a robber with a liking for Granny Goose potato chips. This time the robber pulled a gun while supposedly purchasing the potato chips. He left after removing $73.94 in cash - and with the potato chips.

John Neves, 290 W. Rincon, No. 1, was away on a trip when a burglar pried open a window and made off with his color TV.

Council studies city budget

Campbell city councilmen by their meeting next Monday, June 22, should have a pretty fair idea of how the $4.9 million budget for next year is shaping up.

The Council met last night (Tuesday) in its first budget session and will meet again Saturday morning (June 27).

If they haven't wrapped up fiscal matters by the end of the Saturday's session, they will schedule a meeting for either June 29 or 30. The preliminary operating budget must be adopted by July 1.

The Council also met last Monday night with Architect Bill Hedley to iron out details as to what overcharges the architect is entitled to in his civic center contract with the City.

STANFORD DEGREES

Stanford degrees were conferred on three Campbell residents at commencement exercises held June 14. Receiving degrees were William W. Holland, MA, education; James R. McMonagle, BS, Chemistry; and Thomas G. Rundall, AB, sociology.

How vitamins are important in dental care: Vitamin C helps keep gums healthy; Vitamin A, known to be good for skin, also helps build up tooth enamel; Vitamin D is important for the healthy structure of the teeth and the B complex vitamins aid in the utilization of calcium.

Over ten million Americans avoid the dentist because they are afraid. Today's dentistry is practically painless.

Hundreds of thousands of salmon at a Michigan fish hatchery have died as a result of DDT.

What is diabetes? Normally the pancreas secretes a hormone called insulin, which helps burn excess sugar. If insulin is not adequately secreted, there will be too much sugar in the system.

Anyone may become diabetic, but the condition is found more often in people with diabetic relatives, people over forty, and women.
